

VIGILANCE AWARENESS WEEK ORGANISED AT TFRI

■ Staff Reporter

THE Vigilance and Awareness Week organised at Tropical Forest Research Centre (TFRI) concluded on November 3, 2014.

This programme was organised from October 27, 2014 to November 3, 2014. The director of institute Dr U Prakasham was chief guest on the occasion. The vigilance officer of institute Dr Raja Ram Singh welcomed the guest by presenting bouquet of flowers. Speaking on the occasion, chief guest called upon the participants to maintain transparency, honesty in every department. He stressed on measures to keep India corruption free. In the Vigilance awareness essay competition on topic 'Struggle Against

A view of programme organised at Tropical Forest Research Centre.

Corruption-Significant Role of Technology' was organised on October 29, 2014 in which officials, scientists, employees and research scholars participated in programme. During the concluding ceremony, chief guest distributed the prizes amongst the winners and consolation prizes were also given to all other contestants. The programme was successfully conducted by HD Pathak. The presence of heads of department, officials, scientists, employees and research scholars was appreciable.